

Dear David,

I hope all has been well in your world recently. I wanted to reach out to say thank you for your generous gift through the Bascom Case Competition as well as your support through the CU Real Estate Center. I feel unbelievably lucky to not only have had the opportunity to go through this growing program, but also be a part of this tight knit group that revolves around helping others and feeling connected to the community. I can't even begin to describe how blessed and grateful I am for what I learned throughout the program, as well as the relationships I was able to form with the exceptional people in my cohort. The bonds and relationships I formed throughout this process from the late-night Zoom calls to trips to the site with group members to speak with locals in order to get a sense of what was needed at Dowd Junction are second to none. Because of that, I can truly say that I created lifelong friends through this process. I firmly believe that our team's success was due to the trust that we each had in one another and when someone said they were going to get something done, there was not an ounce of doubt across the team.

I am beyond grateful to have had this opportunity and I have you to thank for that. Thank you again for your continued support of the students, and the CURGC. I look forward to catching up soon.

Sincerely,

Kyle Clinton
